TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Chief Information Officer position at your leading Middle Eastern bank. With over 23 years of executive-level technology experience, including 15 years in banking and financial services, I believe my background aligns exceptionally well with your requirements.

During my eight-year tenure at HSBC as VP IT Development, I managed mission-critical applications for both corporate and retail banking sectors. I led the implementation of the Receivables Business Software for Corporate Banking, oversaw the Alternate Delivery Channel portfolio including ATM networks and Internet Banking, and successfully delivered the Automatic Clearing House proposition for India. My responsibilities extended to managing cross-functional teams across Network, Desktop, Software Development, and Operations departments.

At Oracle Financial Services Software, I managed the Global Cash Management System (GCMS) implementation for Citibank, supporting the retirement of mainframe systems while maintaining CMMI Level 5 compliance. This experience gave me deep insights into financial integration challenges and enterprise banking systems.

My international assignments in New York, London, and Hong Kong have provided me with valuable cross-cultural leadership experience essential for multi-country banking operations. I've successfully managed global rollouts, coordinated with international stakeholders, and adapted to diverse regulatory environments.

In my recent leadership roles, I've demonstrated the ability to drive technological transformation while optimizing costs. At Hungama Digital Media, I reduced technology OpEx by over 50% while improving service reliability to 98% uptime. I've implemented enterprise-grade solutions in cloud environments and established robust governance frameworks directly applicable to banking operations.

I am particularly drawn to your bank's progressive approach and would welcome the opportunity to lead your technology vision forward in this transformative era for financial services, focusing on:

- Leveraging my 20+ years of banking technology expertise to drive strategic innovation
- Applying my experience in managing large, multi-country technology operations
- Utilizing my vendor management skills to optimize partnerships and technology investments
- Building upon my background in both retail and corporate banking to enhance customer-facing and internal systems

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to discussing how my banking technology experience can contribute to your continued success.

SINCERELY,

ANMOL MATHUR
